Beyond
STANDARDS

Assessing and transforming learning performance

Standard performance is not # good enough

In the global economy, the ability to learn and apply learning has long been a key differentiator for success. People, companies and nations who learn fast, move up.

Creating the right conditions for the rapid development of skills and transfer of knowledge is about aspiring to be the best and committing to continuous improvement. However, while it makes sense to set standards, standard performance is not good enough.

To succeed, people, organisations and nations must go beyond mere compliance to a standard – they must excel.

Creating the competitive advantage

Beyond Standards provides a wide range of services in a variety of contexts, including public education, employment, private and not-for-profit training provision, government, armed and uniformed services. Our services include:

Our services include

- Accurate, independent assessment of the quality of technical and vocational education and training (TVET)
- Clear identification of what must be done to improve to international standards
- Training and support for a wide range of quality improvement techniques including self-assessment, data management and peer review
- Analysis, advice and support for the development of organisational strategy and organisational culture based on trust – for existing and start-up businesses
- Senior management mentoring and support
- Interim quality and organisational management
- International workshops and presentations on the unique Beyond Standards method of quality improvement

Learning to excel

Everyone involved in vocational education and training cares passionately about the work they do. However, many people doubt that they can do better for the same input of time and effort. At Beyond Standards we help learning organisations to assess accurately where they stand, map out the pathway to excellence and achieve their goals.

Wherever you are in your evolution towards excellence, Beyond Standards can take you to the next level.
